Attorney for Defendant
ALFONSO SEGURA-FIGUEROA

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,)	Case No. 07cr3217 LAB
)
Plaintiff,)	MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND
)	AUTHORITIES IN SUPPORT OF
v.)	DEFENDANT'S MOTIONS
)
ALFONSO SEGURA-FIGUEROA,)
)
Defendant.)

I. STATEMENT OF FACTS

Facts contained in this motion, are not concessions or admissions. Instead, they are based primarily on a review of the discovery provided by the government. Mr. SEGURA-FIGUEROA reserves the right to challenge the accuracy of these alleged facts and in no way admits their accuracy.

ALFONSO SEGURA-FIGUEROA is accused of being a deported alien found in the United States in violation of 8 U.S.C. § 1326.

II. MOTION TO COMPEL DISCOVERY

Defendant moves for the production of further discovery pursuant to FED. R. CRIM. P. 12(b)(4) and 16. This request is not limited to items the prosecutor knows of, but rather includes all discovery listed below that is in the custody, control, care, or knowledge of any investigative or other governmental agencies closely connected to the prosecution. See Kyles v. Whitley, 514 U.S. 419, 437 (1995); United States v. Bryan, 868 F.2d 1032, 1035 (9th Cir. 1989).

1. Defendant's "A" File and Deportation Tapes. Mr. SEGURA-FIGUEROA requests a complete and accurate copy of any and all "A" files the government alleges are his, and copies of any tape-recorded deportation hearings, and any transcripts thereof, in support of any deportation order executed against Defendant.

The government must produce documents which are material to the preparation of a defense. See FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(C). Here, Mr. SEGURA-FIGUEROA meets all the requirements for production under Rule 16. He asks to inspect his "A" file. The government is in possession of it. And, the following discussion demonstrates the materiality of the "A" file.

The "A" file plays a significant role in a prosecution under 8 U.S.C. § 1326. INS Officers routinely testify at trial that an "A" file contains all of the immigration contacts between the government and the individual. See United States v. Blanco-Gallegos, 188 F.3d 1072 (9th Cir. 1999) (an INS A-File identifies an individual by name, aliases, date of birth, and citizenship, and all records and documents related to the alien are maintained in that file). Thus, the "A" file is presumptively material in § 1326 prosecutions.

Additionally, the "A" file may contain Brady material. See Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963). Armed with the "A" file, Mr. SEGURA-FIGUEROA could use documents which may help his defense or point to specific documents that should be in the file. The absence of records is relevant and admissible. In fact, there is a specific hearsay exception dealing with absence of records. See FED. R. EVID. 803(10). Without an examination of the complete "A" file, however, Mr. SEGURA-FIGUEROA cannot use this effective technique. Mr. SEGURA-FIGUEROA can use absence of records to establish his innocence, or at least, impeach the

1 government's witnesses. Thus, the complete "A" file is material to Mr. SEGURA-2 FIGUEROA's defense and the failure to order inspection will effect his substantial rights.

3 Mr. SEGURA-FIGUEROA expects the government will attempt to have an "expert 4 witness" testify that based upon a review of Mr. SEGURA-FIGUEROA's "A" file, 5 Mr. SEGURA-FIGUEROA would not have received permission to return to the United States, 6 and based on a review of the "A" file, Mr. SEGURA-FIGUEROA was not a United States
7 citizen. If, however, the Court allows the testimony, the government must produce the materials 8 — the "A" file — the expert uses to reach his or her opinions. See United States v. Zanfordino, 9 833 F. Supp. 429, 432-33 (S.D.N.Y. 1993). In Zanfordino, the defense requested discovery 10 regarding the basis of the expert's testimony. The district court granted the request, noting that 11 a cross examination conducted without that information implicated due process and the 12 Confrontation Clause. 833 F. Supp. at 432. "If an expert is testifying based in part on undis-13 closed sources of information, cross-examination vouchsafed by that Clause would be unduly 14 restricted." Id. In addition to the constitutional concerns, Zanfordino also relied, as does 15 Mr. SEGURA-FIGUEROA, on Rule 16, Jencks and Fed. R. Evid. 705. Id. at 432-33. Rule 16 16 requires disclosure of "the bases and reasons for [the expert's] opinions." FED. R. CRIM. P.
17 16(a)(1)(E). The rules of evidence impose a similar requirement: "[t]he expert may in any event 18 be required to disclose the underlying facts or data on cross-examination." FED. R. EVID. 705.
19 As the Zanfordino court observed, "delaying such disclosure until [cross examination] would 20 merely prolong the trial." 833 F. Supp. at 433.

21 Finally, Mr. SEGURA-FIGUEROA expects that government witnesses will use the "A" 22 file to refresh memory. A defendant is entitled to inspect materials that a government witness 23 uses "to refresh memory for the purpose of testifying, either — (1) while testifying, or (2) before 24 testifying, if the court in its discretion determines it is necessary in the interests of justice." FED.
25 R. EVID. 612; United States v. Sai Keung Wong, 886 F.2d 252, 257 (9th Cir. 1989). While this 26 Court has discretion to deny inspection when the witness reviews material before testifying, the 27 Court must order inspection when the witness reviews materials while on the stand. See 28 Chalmers v. City of Los Angeles, 762 F.2d 753, 761 (9th Cir. 1985) (written aids may be used

1 to stimulate a recollection, but such writings must be made available for inspection and cross-2 examination by the adverse party); Spivey v. Zant, 683 F.2d 881, 885 n.5 (5th Cir. 1982) (habeas 3 defendant entitled to inspect and use during cross-examination whatever portions of his file that 4 his former attorney used to refresh his memory); Marcus v. United States, 422 F.2d 752, 754 5 (5th Cir. 1970) (well settled that if a witness uses any paper or memoranda while on the stand 6 to refresh memory, the opposing side, upon demand, has a right to examine the paper or memo-
7 randa and use it in cross-examination); National Dairy Products Corp. v. United States, 384 8 F.2d 457, 461 (8th Cir. 1967) (finding prejudicial error where the court let the government 9 refresh a witness's memory with a grand jury transcript and where the court did not let the 10 defendant inspect the transcript; United States v. Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., 310 U.S. 150, 233 11 (1940) (material used to refresh recollection must be shown to opposing counsel upon demand).

12 2. Defendant's Statements. The Government must provide Defendant with 13 copies of: (a) all written or recorded statements made by Defendant; (b) the substance of any 14 statements Defendant made which the Government intends to offer in evidence at trial; (c) any 15 response by Defendant to interrogation; (d) the substance of any oral statements which the Gov-16 ernment intends to introduce at trial and any written summaries of Defendant's oral statements 17 contained in the handwritten notes of Government agents; (e) any response Defendant gave to 18 any Miranda warnings which may have been given to Defendant; and, (f) any other statements 19 by Defendant. The Government must reveal all statements made by a defendant, whether oral 20 or written, regardless of whether the Government intends to make any use of those statements.
21 See FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(A); id. advisory committee's note (1991 amendments); see also 22 United States v. Bailleaux, 685 F.2d 1105, 1113-14 (9th Cir. 1982).

23 3. Arrest Reports, Notes and Dispatch Tapes. Defendant also specifically 24 moves for a copy of all arrest reports, notes, dispatch or any other tapes, and TECS records that 25 relate to the circumstances surrounding Defendant's arrest or any questioning. This request 26 includes any rough notes, records, reports, transcripts or other documents in which Defendant's 27 statements or any other discoverable material is contained. Such material is discoverable under 28 FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(A) and Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963). Notably, the

1 Government must produce arrest reports, investigators' notes, memos from arresting officers, 2 dispatch tapes, sworn statements, and prosecution reports pertaining to Defendant. See United 3 States v. Riley, 189 F.3d 802, 806-08 (9th Cir. 1999); FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(B)-(C); FED. R.
 4 CRIM. P. 12(i), 26.2. Defendant requests preservation of rough notes, whether or not the 5 government deems them discoverable.

6 4. Brady Material. Defendant moves for production of all documents, 7 statements, agents' reports, and tangible evidence favorable to Defendant on the issue of guilt 8 or which affects the credibility of the Government's witnesses. Impeachment and exculpatory 9 evidence fall within the definition of evidence favorable to the accused. See Brady v. Maryland, 10 373 U.S. 83 (1963); United States v. Bagley, 473 U.S. 667, 676-78 (1985); United States v.
 11 Agurs, 427 U.S. 97, 102-06 (1976).

12 5. PINPOINT DISCOVERY REQUESTS FOR Brady Material.

13 a. official restraint

14 Mr. SEGURA-FIGUEROA specifically requests under the Due Process Clause, under 15 the Sixth Amendment and under Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963), disclosure of the name, 16 place of employment and current assignment for any governmental law enforcement personnel 17 (including but not limited to border patrol agents, infrared scope operators, seismic sensor 18 monitoring personnel, video monitoring personnel, air patrols, air mobile units, helicopter 19 patrols, fixed wing units, unmanned surveillance aircraft, ATV patrols, horseback patrols, line-20 watch officers, Department of Homeland Security personnel, National Guard personnel, and 21 minutemen citizen patrols) who were working in or near the area of apprehension and south of 22 the location when and before Mr. SEGURA-FIGUEROA was apprehended. Such personnel 23 may have seen Mr. SEGURA-FIGUEROA cross the border. Thus he may have been under 24 constant surveillance. Constant surveillance would provide a complete defense to an indictment 25 that charges one with being a deported alien "found in" the United States (free from official 26 restraint). United States v. Castellanos-Garcia, 270 F.3d 773, 775 (9th Cir. 2001) (affirming 27 conviction because the accused failed to present sufficient evidence of constant surveillance 28 even though the burden is supposedly on the government to show a lack of official restraint for

1 apprehensions that occur near the border). Given that the Ninth Circuit requires that § 1326 2 defendant's arrested near the border present evidence of surveillance, the government must 3 timely disclose such evidence so that the defense can prepare for trial.

4 Reports Regarding Percipient Witnesses. Mr. SEGURA-FIGUEROA also requests 5 any reports, including rough notes and un-printed computer input, written about the other 6 individuals apprehended with him as they are potential witnesses at trial and the defense needs 7 an opportunity to interview them even if they have been deported.

8 b. acquired or derivative citizenship

9 Defendant moves for production of all documents, statements, agents' reports, and 10 tangible evidence favorable to Defendant on the issue of guilt on the issue of "alienage." 11 Specifically, a person born outside the United States is not an alien for purposes of 8 U.S.C.
 12 § 1326 if he or she has acquired or derived citizenship through a parent under the immigration 13 laws of the United States.

14 Citizenship for one not born in the United States may be acquired "only as provided by 15 Acts of Congress." Miller v. Albright, 523 U.S. 420, 424 (1998). Since the enactment of the 16 first naturalization statute in 1790, our immigration laws have conferred derivative citizenship 17 on the children of a naturalized citizen, provided certain statutorily prescribed conditions are 18 met. Minasyan v. Gonzales, 401 F.3d 1069, 1075 (9th Cir. 2005).

19 As with all forms of citizenship, derivative citizenship is determined under the law in 20 effect at time the critical events giving rise to eligibility occurred. Minasyan, 401 F.3d at 1075; 21 Montana v. Kennedy, 366 U.S. 308 (1961). For example, under INA § 321(a),^{1/} citizenship can 22 be transmitted automatically upon a parent's naturalization. Minasyan, 401 F.3d at 1075. "The 23 applicable law for transmitting citizenship to a child born abroad when one parent is a U.S.
 24 citizen is the statute that was in effect at the time of the child's birth." Solis-Espinoza v.
 25 Gonzales, 401 F.3d 1090, 1092 (9th Cir. 2005); Scales v. INS, 232 F.3d at 1159, 1162-63 (9th 26 Cir. 2005); United States v. Viramontes-Alvarado, 149 F.3d 912, 915 (9th Cir. 1998).

27
 28

^{1/} INA § 321 (8 U.S.C. § 1432) was repealed Oct. 30, 2000.

“Until the claim of citizenship is resolved, the propriety of the entire [deportation] proceeding is in doubt.” Frank v. Rogers, 253 F.2d 889, 890 (D.C. Cir. 1958). See Minasyan v. Gonzales, 401 F.3d 1069, 1075 (9th Cir. 2005) (citing Frank v. Rogers and Ng Fung Ho v. White, 259 U.S. 276, 284 (1922) (“Jurisdiction in the executive to order deportation exists only if the person arrested is an alien. The claim of citizenship is thus a denial of an essential jurisdictional fact.”)). Where someone who has been ordered removed claims that he is a United States citizen and that he is therefore not subject to removal, the federal courts have jurisdiction to determine his nationality claim. Minasyan v. Gonzales, 401 F.3d 1069, 1074 (9th Cir. 2005). Because “the INA explicitly places the determination of nationality claims solely in the hands of the courts of appeals and (if there are questions of fact to resolve) the district courts,” the federal courts are not required to give Chevron deference to the agency’s interpretation of the citizenship laws. Minasyan, 401 F.3d at 1074. In addition, a claim to citizenship need not be exhausted. Minasyan, 401 F.3d at 1075. The statutory administrative exhaustion requirement of § 1252(d)(1) does not apply to a person with a non-frivolous claim to USC status even if he has previously been (illegally) deported by the government. Minasyan, 401 F.3d at 1075.

6. Any Information That May Result in a Lower Sentence Under the Guidelines. The Government must produce this information under Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963). This request includes any cooperation or attempted cooperation by Defendant as well as any information that could affect any base offense level or specific offense characteristic under Chapter Two of the Sentencing Guidelines. Defendant also moves for a copy of any information relevant to a Chapter Three adjustment, a determination of the defendant’s criminal history, and information relevant to any other application of the Guidelines.

7. Defendant’s Prior Record. Under FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(B), Defendant specifically moves for a copy of Defendant’s prior criminal record, if any, as is within the possession, custody, or control of the government. Defendant specifically requests that the copy be complete and legible.

8. Any Proposed 404(b) Evidence. The government must produce evidence of “other acts” under FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(C) and FED. R. EVID. 404(b), 609. See United

1 States v. Vega, 188 F.3d 1150, 1154 (9th Cir. 1999) (holding that Rule 404(b) “applies to all
2 ‘other acts,’ not just bad acts”). This request includes any TECS records the Government 3 intends to introduce at trial, whether in its case-in-chief, for possible impeachment, or in 4 rebuttal. Id. In addition, under Rule 404(b), Defendant specifically requests the government 5 “provide reasonable notice in advance of trial . . . of the general nature” of any evidence the 6 government proposes to introduce under FED. R. EVID. 404(b) at trial. See id. at 1154-55.
7 Additionally, Defendant requests that such notice be given three weeks before trial to give the 8 defense time to adequately investigate and prepare for trial.

9 9. Evidence Seized. Under Fed. R. Crim. P. 16(a)(1)(C), the defense moves 10 for a copy of discovery of evidence seized as a result of any search.

11 10. Tangible Objects. Under Fed. R. Crim. P. 16(a)(2)(C), Defendant specific-12 ally requests the opportunity to inspect and copy and test, if necessary, all other documents and 13 tangible objects, including any books, papers, documents, photographs, buildings, automobiles, 14 or places, or copies, depictions, or portions thereof which are material to the defense or intended 15 for use in the government’s case-in-chief, or were obtained from or belong to Defendant.

16 11. Evidence of Bias or Motive to Lie. Defendant moves for production of any 17 evidence that any prospective Government witness is biased or prejudiced against Defendant, 18 or has a motive to falsify or distort his or her testimony. Pennsylvania v. Ritchie, 480 U.S. 39, 19 57-58 (1987); United States v. Strifler, 851 F.2d 1197, 1201-02 (9th Cir. 1988).

20 12. Impeachment Evidence. Defendant moves for production of any evidence 21 that any prospective Government witness has engaged in any criminal act whether or not 22 resulting in a conviction and whether any witness has made a statement favorable to the 23 defendant. See FED. R. EVID. 608-09, 613; Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963); Strifler, 851 24 F.2d at 1201-02; Thomas v. United States, 343 F.2d 49, 53-54 (9th Cir. 1965).

25 13. Evidence of Criminal Investigation of Any Government Witness. Defend-26 ant moves for production of any evidence that any prospective witness is under investigation by 27 federal, state or local authorities for any criminal conduct.

28

1 14. Evidence Affecting Perception, Recollection, Ability to Communicate, or 2 Truth Telling. Defendant moves for production of any evidence, including any medical or 3 psychiatric report or evaluation, that tends to show any prospective witness' ability to perceive, 4 remember, communicate, or tell the truth is impaired, and any evidence that a witness has ever 5 used narcotics or any other controlled substance, or has ever been an alcoholic. See Strifler, 851 6 F.2d at 1201-02.

7 15. Witness Addresses. Defendant moves for production of the name and last 8 known address of (1) each prospective Government witness, and (b) every witness to the crime 9 or crimes charged (or any of the overt acts committed in furtherance thereof) who will not be 10 called as a Government witness.

11 16. Name of Witnesses Favorable to the Defendant. Defendant moves for 12 production of the name of any witness who made an arguably favorable statement concerning 13 Defendant. Chavis v. North Carolina, 637 F.2d 213, 223 (4th Cir. 1980); Jones v. Jago, 575 14 F.2d 1164, 1168 (6th Cir. 1978); Hudson v. Blackburn, 601 F.2d 785 (5th Cir. 1979); Jackson 15 v. Wainwright, 390 F.2d 288 (5th Cir. 1968).

16 17. Statements Relevant to the Defense. Defendant moves for disclosure of 17 any statement that may be "relevant to any possible defense or contention" that my client might 18 assert. United States v. Bailleaux, 685 F.2d 1105 (9th Cir. 1982). This includes in particular 19 any statements by any percipient witnesses.

20 18. Jencks Act Material. Defendant moves for production in advance of trial 21 of all material, including dispatch tapes, which the Government must produce pursuant to the 22 Jencks Act, 18 U.S.C. § 3500 and FED. R. CRIM. P. 26.2. Advance production will avoid the 23 possibility of delay at the request of defendant to investigate the Jencks material. A verbal 24 acknowledgment that "rough" notes constitute an accurate account of the witness' interview is 25 sufficient for the report or notes to qualify as a statement under § 3500(e)(1). Campbell v.
26 United States, 373 U.S. 487, 490-92 (1963). In United States v. Boshell, 952 F.2d 1101 (9th Cir.
27 1991), the Ninth Circuit held that when an agent goes over interview notes with the subject of 28 the interview, the notes are subject to the Jencks Act. See also Riley, 189 F.3d at 806-08. The

1 defense specifically requests pretrial production of these statements so that the court may avoid 2 unnecessary recesses and delays for defense counsel to properly use any Jencks statements and 3 prepare for cross-examination.

4 19. Giglio Information. Pursuant to Giglio v. United States, 405 U.S. 150
5 (1972), Defendant moves for production of all statements or promises, express or implied, made 6 to any Government witnesses, in exchange for their testimony in this case, and all other 7 information which could arguably be used for the impeachment of any Government witness.

8 20. Agreements Between the Government and Witnesses. Defendant moves 9 for discovery regarding any express or implicit promise, understanding, offer of immunity, of 10 past, present, or future compensation, or any other kind of agreement or understanding, includ-11 ing any implicit understanding relating to criminal or civil income tax, forfeiture or fine liability, 12 between any prospective Government witness and any federal, state or local government. This 13 request also includes any discussion with a potential witness about, or advice concerning, any 14 contemplated prosecution, or any possible plea bargain, even if no bargain was made, or the 15 advice not followed.

16 21. Informants and Cooperating Witnesses. Defendant moves for disclosure 17 of the names and addresses of all informants or cooperating witnesses used, or to be used, in this 18 case, and in particular, disclosure of any informant who was a percipient witness in this case or 19 otherwise participated in the crime charged against Defendant. The Government must disclose 20 the informant's identity and location, as well as disclose the existence of any other percipient 21 witness unknown or unknowable to the defense. Roviaro v. United States, 353 U.S. 53, 61-62
22 (1957). The Government must disclose any information derived from informants which excul-23 pates or tends to exculpate Defendant. Defendant also moves for disclosure of any information 24 indicating bias on the part of any informant or cooperating witness. Giglio, 405 U.S. at 153-55.
25 Such information should include what inducements, favors, payments, or threats were made to 26 the witness to secure cooperation with the authorities.

27 22. Personnel Records of Government Officers Involved in the Arrest.
28 Defendant moves for production of all citizen complaints and other related internal affairs

1 documents involving any of the immigration officers or other law enforcement officers who 2 were involved in the investigation, arrest and interrogation of Defendant. See Pitchess v.
3 Superior Court, 11 Cal. 3d 531, 539 (1974). Because of the sensitive nature of these documents, 4 defense counsel will be unable to procure them from any other source.

5 23. Government Examination of Law Enforcement Personnel Files. Defendant
6 requests that the Government examine the personnel files and any other files within its custody, 7 care or control, or which could be obtained by the government, for all testifying witnesses, 8 including testifying officers. Defendant requests the attorney for the Government review these 9 files for evidence of perjury or other similar dishonesty, or any other material relevant to 10 impeachment, or any information that is exculpatory, pursuant to its duty under United States
11 v. Henthorn, 931 F.2d 29, 30-31 (9th Cir. 1991). The obligation to examine files arises by virtue 12 of the defense making a demand for their review. The Ninth Circuit in Henthorn remanded for 13 in camera review of the agents' files because the government failed to examine the files of 14 agents who testified at trial. This Court should therefore order the Government to review all 15 such files for all testifying witnesses and turn over any material relevant to impeachment or that 16 is exculpatory to Defendant before trial. Defendant specifically requests that the prosecutor, not 17 the law enforcement officers, review the files in this case. The duty to review the files, under 18 Henthorn, should be the prosecutor's. Only the prosecutor has the legal knowledge and ethical 19 obligations to fully comply with this request. See United States v. Jennings, 960 F.2d 1488, 20 1492 (9th Cir. 1992); see also Kyles v. Whitley, 514 U.S. 438, 437 (1995) (prosecutors have "a 21 duty to learn of any favorable evidence known to the others acting on the government's behalf 22 in the case, including the police").

23 24. Expert Summaries. Defendant moves for production of written summaries 24 of all expert testimony the Government intends to present under Federal Rules of Evidence 702, 25 703 or 705 during its case-in-chief, written summaries of the bases for each expert's opinion, 26 and written summaries of the experts' qualifications. FED. R. CRIM. P. 16(a)(1)(E)-(G).

27 25. Reports of Scientific Tests or Examinations. Under Fed. R. Crim. P.
28 16(a)(1)(D), Defendant moves for discovery of the reports of all tests and examinations

1 conducted upon the evidence in this case, including but not limited to any fingerprint analysis 2 or chemical tests of the substance found in the car my client was driving, that is within the 3 possession, custody, or control of the government, the existence of which is known, or by the 4 exercise of due diligence may become known, to the attorney for the government, and which are 5 material to the preparation of the defense or which are intended for use by the government as 6 evidence-in-chief at trial.

7 26. Residual Request. Defendant intends by this discovery motion to invoke 8 the right to discovery to the fullest extent possible under the Federal Rules of Criminal 9 Procedure and the Constitution and laws of the United States. This request specifically includes 10 all subsections of Rule 16. Defendant requests that the Government provide Defendant and his 11 attorney with the above requested material sufficiently in advance of trial to avoid unnecessary 12 delay before trial and before cross-examination.

13 III. MOTION TO PRESERVE EVIDENCE

14 Request for Preservation of Evidence. Defendant specifically moves for the preservation 15 of all dispatch tapes and any other physical evidence that may be destroyed, lost, or otherwise 16 put out of the possession, custody, or care of the Government and which relates to the arrest or 17 the events leading to the arrest in this case. See Riley, 189 F.3d at 806-08. Defendant further 18 requests that the government be ordered to question all the agencies and individuals involved 19 in the prosecution and investigation of this case to determine if such evidence exists, and if it 20 does exist to instruct those parties to preserve it. This request also includes any material or 21 percipient witness who might be deported or is otherwise likely to become unavailable (e.g., 22 undocumented aliens and transients). U.S. Customs Service requires a court order for the 23 preservation of narcotics, and Defendant hereby moves for such an order.

24 IV. LEAVE TO FILE FURTHER MOTIONS

25 Pursuant to FED. R. CRIM. P. 16, the Government has a continuing duty to disclose 26 discovery to defense counsel. As additional information comes to light, the defense may find 27 it necessary to file further motions or supplement these motions. Defendant hereby requests 28 leave to do so.

1 V. CONCLUSION

2 For the reasons stated above, Defendant respectfully requests that this Court grant the 3 foregoing motions.
